

Last Magazine Monday/Current Event Independent Reading Project

Work with a book that you are currently reading or that you just finished. Choose a character from the book.

Assignment due on Wednesday when you come to class. Read today for at least the first 1/2 hour.

Step 1: Select four (4) current event articles you think your character would be interested in.

For example, during Christmas break, I read a current best-seller called Capitol Hell by former West Central student Alicia Long. Alicia, a graduate of the University of St. Thomas School of Law, worked from 2002-2007 for Senators Norm Coleman (MN), John Thune (SD), and George Allen (VA) as a scheduler, caseworker, intern coordinator, legislative correspondent, and legislative aide. While the book is fiction, it is reported to be based on Alicia's experiences working for these senators!

Here is a brief description of her book:

When recent college graduate Allison Amundson, a small town girl from South Dakota, lands the highly sought-after job of scheduler to the newly-elected and rising star of the United States Senate, Senator Anders McDermott III, she initially thinks she is on the fast track to success. However, she quickly learns that crazy co-workers, a high maintenance boss, the boss's over-the-top demanding family, and an unexpected Presidential bid make Capitol Hill seem even more dysfunctional than it looks on TV. In fact, it is Capitol Hell.

This off-beat, hilarious novel captures what it is like to work in the United States Senate. Find out how it feels to be a hot young staffer on Capitol Hill when you step into Allison's hot pink high heels, and catch a glimpse of what life is really like "inside the beltway."

I would look for current events articles about Minnesota senator Norm Coleman, about the current legislative session, about senate interns, etc.

Step 2: Write a paragraph (at least 5 sentences) explaining what the character would find interesting about the 4 articles you selected. What is the connection to your character? Make sure you include copies of the articles in your project. Print them from online and staple them to the document you create.

Step 3: Do this assignment on one document. Type your name in the header then label as follows:
