

It's an Emoji kind of day, so....

1. Open a Pages document.
2. Type your name at the top
3. In one sentence, name your current book, total # of pages, and where you stopped today.
4. Now click control, command, space bar to bring up the emoji menu. Scroll through all of the categories: Remember that you can hover over the emoji and it will tell you what it is!

5. Your assignment is to write AT LEAST 5 sentences about your current book using 10 DIFFERENT emojis from the categories ON YOUR LAPTOP. Your challenge is to use emojis from as many different categories as possible, so you are NOT just putting in 10 different faces from the same category. I would START with the 5 sentences. Just tell me what your book is about and THEN search for the emojis to fit.
6. HINT: There is a SEARCH function within this menu at the VERY Top! That should make it a little easier.
7. HINT: As you are typing, always put an extra space or two BEFORE and AFTER the emoji!
8. REQUEST: Use Helvetica Size 18 font and 1.2 spacing. So if you type the whole thing first, go back and select all of it, then change to Helvetica 18 and 1.2 Spacing.
9. How do I turn this in? Send it as an emailed ATTACHMENT to me so I can print in color.

Turn over for my sample:
